JAPS CHALLENGING ALLIED SEA POWER IN BAY OF BENGAL

Churchill Admits Enemy Has Seized Effective Control

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH

Associated Press War Editor

With at least a fourth of its total strength in battleships, perhaps half of its aircraft carriers and formidable contingents of supporting and covering craft, the Japanese imperial fleet has seized effective control of the Bay of Bengal in the war's strongest challenge to the United States and British fleets.

Prime Minister Churchill gravely disclosed in the House of Commons today that at least three Japanese battleships, including one of 32,720 tons mounting 16-inch guns, along with five aircraft carriers, a number of light and heavy cruisers and several destroyer flotillas are operating there at the front door to India.

The size of the force indicated to Britain that it had been sent to support invasion of India. With such a force, London military observers said, the Japanese could shield the seaward flank of land forces descending from Burma, across the upper Bengal border into the Ganges basin.

Broadly suggesting a strategy to meet the challenge, with a possible implication of the need for United States naval participation, Churchill said: "We have the Pacific ocean and the Indian ocean with the Japanese occupying an intermediate position between the two. It is possible to use large forces on one side and small forces on the other, or vice versa."

His statement, covering the Easter Day bombing of Colombo and Trincomalee, strong points on Ceylon, and the subsequent sinking of the British aircraft carrier Hermes and the cruisers Dorsetshire and Cornwall, constituted an indirect admission that the Japanese had won dominance in the Bay of Bengal.

The gravity of this situation, coinciding with Japanese occupation of Bataan peninsula in the Philippines, the all-out attempt to reduce the Corregidor fortress and deeper encroachment on the Burma road to India, was relieved only by the continued offensive showing of Allied aerial defenders of Australia and the sinking of several small Japanese boats in Manila Bay.

A war department communique covering reports up to this morning disclosed that shellfire from Corregidor and other forts in the bay had shattered a number of light craft and set fire to several others in Mariveles harbor.

It appeared, although the communique did not so state, that the Japanese might have been preparing for an over-water assault on Corregidor.

Not until Prime Minister Churchill made this disclosure today was the threat of communications with India—if not the direct threat to India—known to be backed so powerfully. Earlier estimates of the enemy's power in the Bay of Bengal counted at most a cruiser force and a pair of aircraft carriers with supporting craft.

The Japanese threat to Australia diminished with every offensive move by Allied airmen who have made Rabaul, keystone of the arch of Japanese bases facing Australia on a 2,400-mile front of islands and sea, their No. 1 target.

Despite violent anti-aircraft fire from ships and shore batteries and opposition from Japanese fighters, all the Allied planes returned safely, the communique added. One enemy fighter plane was seen plummeting earthward trailing smoke.

Decision Made In Libel Case

Washington, April 13—(P)—The supreme court upheld today by a four to four vote a circuit court decision which a litigant interpreted to make it libelous to charge a public official with anti-semitism.

This action was taken on a libel suit brought by Representative Martin L. Sweeney (D-Ohio) against the Schenectady (N.Y.) Union Publishing Company.

Sweeney claimed to have been libeled by statements published in the Schenectady Union Star that he was opposing the appointment of Emerich Burt Freed as federal district judge at Cleveland on the ground that Freed was a Jew.

Dismissal of Sweeney's complaint was ordered by the New York federal district court. This was reversed by the federal circuit court, which ordered a new trial on the merits of the controversy.

The dispatch said: "During the interview Il Duce sobbed bitterly, then burst into hysterical laughter. The specialist said Mussolini had lost all control of himself and no longer was able to manage his affairs as dictator of Italy, which now are reported in a chaotic condition."

CRIPPS SAYS INDIA IS IN REAL DANGER

Only Ember Remains of the Bright Hopes Emissary
From London Carried
to New Delhi

INVITES A SOLUTION

New Delhi, India, April 13—(P)—Of the bright hopes Sir Stafford Cripps brought to India, only an ember remained today as the disappointed British emissary took home his unaccepted plan for giving India's people a dominion's place in the commonwealth after the war.

The one flicker was supplied by Sir Stafford yesterday at Karachi, a stop-over on his homeward flight, when he said that Britain would consider a plan for India at any time its leaders could agree on a solution. He made it clear, however, that the initiative should come from the Indians themselves.

From the United Nations' point of view there was solace from postmortems on both sides which made plain that Britain does not intend to forsake India nor the Indians to lose sight of their danger from Japanese aggression.

"We are not going to embarrass the British war effort in India nor the efforts of our American friends who may come here," said Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, potent leader of the All-India Congress party.

Sir Stafford, evidently tired and worried, declared that no interference with the war effort would be tolerated.

Nehru met again with Louis Johnson, President Roosevelt's personal envoy to India. Sir Stafford said Johnson's role in the long but fruitless discussions was entirely unofficial and asserted the Congress first approached Johnson.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) April 13—(P)—Commenting on the failure of Sir Stafford Cripps' mission to India, Deutsche Diplomatische Politische Korrespondenz, a publication close to the German foreign office, said today India had refused "to be deceived for a second time and converted into a heap of ruins for the glory of England."

Neutral Dispatches Say

CHANGE IS IMPENDING

Bern, Switzerland, April 13—(P)—Marshal Petain and former Vice-Premier Pierre Laval were reported today to have conferred three times since Saturday in an Axis-prompted renewal of negotiations for increased French-German collaboration which neutral dispatches from Berlin said were inspired by Nazi fears of an Allied offensive against German-occupied western Europe.

Informed diplomatic sources said the aged marshal and his pro-Axis former assistant met for the third time today in preparation for what German dispatches said might be reorganization of the Vichy government, probably tomorrow.

Their conversations, these dispatches declared, concerned fresh efforts by Laval, aided by German ambassador to Paris Otto Abetz, to get back into the French cabinet, revise procedure of the Riom trial of responsibility for France's military defeat and reduce Anglo-American influence in Vichy, particularly before Germany's long-awaited spring offensive against the Soviets begins.

London, April 13—(P)—Advocates of collaboration between Vichy and Berlin exerted new pressure upon the Petain government during the week end, with one Nazi proponent, Marcel Deat, going so far as to say that France's fate for many years would be determined in the next few hours.

Livermore, Calif., April 13—(P)—Fourteen U. S. navy fliers perished yesterday when two big PB-5A patrol bombers crashed and burned near each other in the Livermore hills.

A fifteen-man crew, without serious injury, was rescued from the wreckage. The crash occurred in foggy weather as the giant land-and-sea ships were flying on an undisclosed mission at a point about 30 miles southeast of their base at the Alameda naval air station.

Leading Mouthpiece of Russian Policy Says "Blab-bering" About Invasion
May Have Reaction

AIR FIGHTING MOUNTS

By the Associated Press

In apparently growing conviction that the Red army holds the whiphand on Russia's European front, one of the leading mouthpieces of Russian policy declared sharply today that Japanese "blabbering" about invasion in the Russian east "might damage, first of all and most of all, Japan herself."

Thus, Pravda, newspaper organ of the Communist party oddly observed the first anniversary of the signing of the Japanese-Russian neutrality pact, the basis of the uneasy peace between the two powers and striking in similarity to the Russian-German non-aggression pact which Germany voided by invasion of the Soviet Union last June.

Bespeaking readiness of the Red army for offensive action, a roundabout report credited to the Moscow radio said that the Russians had crossed the Dnestr river near Bryansk, virtually encircling that city, 200 miles southwest of Moscow.

Pravda firmly warned Japan to live up to all ramifications of the agreement.

The RAF smashed at Axis airbases in Germany and Italy during the night.

Not a bomber was reported lost on the 1,500-mile round trip foray against Turin, a munitions-making center of northern Italy, but at least 10 bombers and one fighter were lost in the sweeps to Essen's Krupp works, docks at Le Havre, France, and airdromes in France and the low countries.

The British acknowledged those losses, and the German high command put the cost of the last 24 hours of RAF offensive action over Europe at 24-15 downed by day and nine by night.

The German air force increased its pace on the Russian front, in support of light counter-attacks by infantry and tanks in a general attempt to feel out the depth of the Red army's positions. Warm weather and slush prevailed in the principal fighting areas.

The German high command acknowledged Russian attacks at several points but named only Moscow.

Power Failure At Meadville

Meadville, April 13—(P)—A failure in electric power circuits interrupted business in factories and offices and kept an estimated 6,000 workers idle over an hour in Crawford county today.

H. K. Williams, manager of the Pennsylvania Electric Company, said three power lines were affected. The cause of the break was not immediately established.

Stoppage of electricity prevented some banks from opening their vaults on time. Hospitals and other institutions and business places lost their light service, but the hospitals were able to switch immediately to emergency power sources.

The interruption occurred at 8:37 a. m., and service was restored to normal throughout the county at 10:17 a. m.

Warren and Forest Counties Are Linked In Pledge Drive

Next Thursday will be a red letter day in the history of Pennsylvania and Warren county, for at the appointed hour the greatest all-out effort on record will get underway in a voluntary pledge by every income-earning citizen to aid in financing America's war cost by the systematic and regular purchase of U. S. War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

No worker will be overlooked. Systematically, block by block, in the cities and towns, and mile by mile in the rural areas, a vast army of Minute Men and Women will see that every income receiver is pledged to Bond and Stamp purchases on a regular and continuing basis. Most of the work in Warren county will be done by nearly six hundred air raid wardens, who will cover their respective "post areas" under the guidance of their senior post wardens and sector wardens, who have distributed the material and supplies to be used by every post warden.

In the rural areas, the work will be under the supervision of representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board. In Marienville, Forest county, members of the Rotary club will act as minute men, and in Tionesta, Forest county, it is expected that the Lions club will serve the purpose.

And this money so lent the government in time of war will go to buy the food, the guns, the tanks, the ships and planes, the ammunition and supplies, and to bridge the oceans so vital for the support of our Army, Navy, Marines and Air Corps in the total war in which we are engaged against the Axis powers.

Generally speaking, the pledge campaign is aimed to reach every person in America who earns an income and to make of these income earners stockholders in their government by their purchase of a share in America.

WAR BULLETINS

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) April 13—(P)—The German high command said today that the Russians attacked again yesterday on the Kerch peninsula of the Crimea "but with weaker forces" after suffering heavy losses the day before and that all attacks were repulsed.

Kuibyshev, April 13—(P)—Three new Soviet weapons—a long-range field gun, a huge naval gun, and an anti-tank gun to be used from airplanes—were disclosed today in Stalin awards for three inventions.

Madras, India, April 13—(P)—About 130,000 persons of the population of 600,000 have been evacuated from Madras since last Tuesday when this city on India's southeast coast had its first air raid alarm.

London, April 13—(P)—The British government will make no statement on Sir Stafford Cripps' mission to India before he returns an official spokesman declared today.

Chungking, China, April 13—(P)—The Chinese press urged today that the United States, China and other United Nations intervene for a settlement of the Indian question.

Tokyo (From Japanese Broadcasts) April 13—(P)—The Japanese imperial headquarters announced today that the Japanese forces had completely occupied Bataan peninsula.

From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

RUMMAGING through my desk the other day, I came across some snapshots of friends of mine made back in 1933.

If you don't think time flies ... if you don't think this world ever changes ... you ought to look at the women's hats and dresses in those pictures taken 9 years ago! Wow!

It gave me quite a start ... and then it set me to thinking ... and rememberin'! Lots of things sure happened in 1933. A new administration in Washington ... the turning point of the depression ... and the coming of Repeal.

I remember the re-legalization of beer. It came before Repeal, when Congress amended the old Volstead Act to allow legal sale of "3.2" beer.

What talk and arguments they had in those days! One argument I remember well ... was that beer would do a lot to help bring back prosperity. I wondered at the time whether that argument could be proved.

I thought about that again, the other day. I decided to check up and find out.

Well, I found out plenty. I found out that legal beer has paid more than 3 billion dollars in taxes since 1933. It has made more than a million new jobs.

According to one of the reports I've seen, beer has put more than 15 billion dollars into general business circulation. Goodness me, that's a lot of money.

Beer is sold today in every state in the Union. Every state benefits from beer's jobs and taxes. And I guess there's no denying that beer did its share in bringing back better times.

I'm glad it did, too, because beer is such a pleasant, appetizing beverage. And it stands for moderation and moderate people ... it's not likely to get you in trouble.

Local Police Officers To Be Graduated

Five Warren police officers are among fourteen from this section of northwestern Pennsylvania who completed a three-year course in technical police procedure at Kane last Friday and will receive certificates at graduation exercises to be held in DuBois on May 7. The courses for an eight-county district have been held in the Kane High School with Police Chief P. E. Nelson as instructor since the special school was organized by the Public Service Institute of the State Department of Public Instruction.

The first year course deals with basic police procedure, considering the various elements of policing from the standpoint of a police patrolman. The second year, the initial course was repeated and an advanced course was presented, dealing with basic standard methods and techniques used in investigation. The technical course completed last week has been under way for the past 23 weeks and dealt with modern methods and technique of scientific investigation.

Thus far a total of 70 police officers have completed the various courses, with 14 of that number taking the final instruction. Represented in the instruction have been police chiefs, coroners, state game protectors, county officers and patrolmen.

Previous graduation exercises were held at Kane and Warren. At the conclusion of the course, the students voted to hold the exercises at DuBois this year and fixed the date for the event.

Those who will graduate from the technical course are: Geary W. Bean, Michael Evan, Gordon C. Munn, C. W. Park, and Charles W. Musante, of Warren; Theodore C. Carlson, John Johnsonburg; William J. Carpenter, Mt. Jewett; Coroner T. L. Clark, Bradford; George I. Felt, Brockway; Neal C. Fulmer, Kane; William H. Gilling, Burt A. Hetrick and Zigmund Okonski, DuBois, and L. E. Geist, Brookville.

If all the cigars made in the United States were rolled into one mammoth stogie it would reach 630 miles from Chicago, Illinois, to Topeka, Kansas, the Census reports.

JUDGE RALPH H. SMITH

My Fellow Americans: I am determined that the full strength of the second largest State in the Union must be placed squarely behind the war effort.

It is time for team-work—not debate.

Our boys are fighting and dying to protect their homeland from the marauders. Our dead and wounded litter the world's battlefronts and the seven seas. All this is done that our freedom, our liberties, our very existence may be preserved.

We cannot hope to match their sacrifice but we must rally the full and united power of Pennsylvania behind them. All of Pennsylvania's resources and wealth; all of our great man-power must be dedicated to the final victory which can only be achieved through relentless, tough, self-sacrificing war effort.

To that effort I dedicate this campaign. All other purposes must remain secondary.

Ralph H. Smith.

My running mates are fighting shoulder to shoulder with me for this program.

THE GOOD FIGHT

This editorial appeared in the New York Herald-Tribune of April 10, and is reprinted with their permission:

"An attack by the 1st Corps, ordered to relieve the situation, failed due to complete physical exhaustion of the troops."
With that proud, if tragic, epitaph there closes the heroic defense of the Bataan Peninsula. The 37,000 American and Filipino troops, on short rations for nearly three months, outnumbered by five or ten to one, without air protection and beyond hope of reinforcement, fought until it was physically impossible to fight longer, and in so doing wrote one of the imperishable pages in the history of their country and of the world. That page has now been turned, as it was inevitable that it must be; even yet there is still no authentic word of a surrender, while the flag, so bravely defended on Bataan, still floats above the rocky fortress of Corregidor.

It is impossible not to feel saddened by the end of this peculiar gallant fight. But it is impossible to regard the outcome, which for months has seemed only a matter of time, as anything but a victory for the men who challenged so cheerfully and im-perturbably the whole weight of the Japanese Army. How great was their victory may not be known for a long while; its effects may never be fully estimated. Through four critical months these men kept many times their own number of Japanese and considerable sections of Japanese air and shipping resources, fully engaged; they made it possible to deny one of the best harbors in the East to the service of the Japanese advance. They could not win time enough to make possible their own relief; but it may well be that it was their fight which permitted the reinforcement of Australia and the upbuilding of the defenses elsewhere. Bataan and Corregidor may yet prove to have been the stumbling blocks over which Japanese aggression tripped, to fall to its ultimate destruction.

If there is any defeat here, it is not for the Bataan Army, but rather for this country, still so slow to summon up its offensive strength and succor the brave handfuls who have been dying for it in the exposed forward positions all around the world.
It is some consolation to know that there were vigorous efforts to re-supply them, some of which succeeded; it is bitter to realize that the means were not available to do more. But the name of Bataan survives, a heroic portent of what free man can do and a promise to the world that must be and will be redeemed.

A REAL OPPORTUNITY

That Harry Kopf has accepted the chairmanship of the 1942 Community Chest campaign is indicative of the value our busy industrialists place upon the services which the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, the Warren Relief Association, the Visiting Nurse Association, the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association render to our City.

In our all-out war production program, certainly there is none in Warren busier than Harry Kopf. With all he has to do and the terrific strain of his job as the managing head of one of our most important defense plants, surely is reason enough why he might have asked to be excused from this additional responsibility this year.

But Harry Kopf is interested in the welfare of his city. He was the first president of the Chest. He knows that its seven member agencies are indispen-sible to our community. Warren should feel a deep sense of gratitude toward him for this unselfish cooperation.

In this national emergency, Mr. Kopf realizes that the following four points are vital ones to remember in connection with our Community Chest Campaign this year—

1. Curtailment of government expenditures for non-defense measures will mean that local agencies must assume the burden of relief.
2. War brings a tendency toward re-adjustment of moral attitudes. This presents a tremendous task for our churches, schools and character-building agencies.
3. Disease epidemics accompany war. Our local health agencies must be bulwarked.
4. Aside from their immediate tasks, the chief concern of our young men in the armed forces is HOME! Their spirit will depend on their conviction that we are maintaining the HOME FRONT.

Good luck to you, Harry. You have a real job . . .
but a real opportunity, too.

Wouldn't be a bad idea for some folks to study up on the etiquette of the flag between now and parade time Wednesday evening.

It was demonstrated for about an hour Saturday evening just how fickle April weather can be.

If you must go fishing Wednesday be sure and return in time for the celebration.

Frosty morning!

Among the Things We'd Lose If the Axis Won

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Apparently the President's announcement that men of 45 to 65 will be registered April 27 has given rise to a lot of unanswered questions and some misunderstanding. With some oldsters thinking that registration will mean immediate draft into the Army or war industries.
I have talked to national Selective Service officials and to Congressmen. The Fourth Registration is a nose-counting registration and nothing more. It could be done, but NOT as effectively, by the Census Bureau. The Census Bureau admittedly misses a certain percentage of the population. If the Selective Service boards miss a few, the FBI doesn't—not for long anyway.

BESIDES, the Fourth Registration will make available detailed facts and information that could not be obtained any other way. Congress, the military forces, and the War Production Board will then know exactly where we stand in man-power, what that man-power is fitted for. It will be the basis of planning for the future if the war drags on for years.

Although the law provides for registration of men from 45 to 65, there isn't now any law for drafting these men into the armed forces or into the industrial and agricultural pursuits that provide the war machine with its sinews. And there isn't any pressure either public or official on Congress to pass such a law at this time.

This catalogue of skills will, however, show exactly just how vast an Army this country could support if its total man power were mobilized. The final answer to the ultimate and complete war effort could not, of course, be given until women and men under 20 also are registered and catalogued.

One question that is constantly asked by those registrants in the third draft, 36 to 44 years old, is: "What are the chances that I will be called into military service?" It doesn't do any good to take that question to Selective Service. They'll give you the fishy eye and the stock answer to all questions they don't want to quibble about: "That's a matter for the Army and the local boards."

I did find one government official though who pulled some interesting figures out of the hat.
You can take them for what any off-the-record, unofficial estimate is worth.

THERE are, he explained, about 7,350,000 men in the 36-44 registrations. If we want an army of 4,000,000 men and we do, about 400,000 will come from this age group, and they will be called within the next 12 to 18 months.
That means that one out of approximately every 18 men in that group will be in uniform by the end of 1943, unless war ends before then.

If we go on to build the projected Army of 8,000,000, the number required from this age group will more than double (because of previous demands on the younger age groups). A guess is that this group would then provide at least a million men, and the chances of course would then rise to one out of approximately every seven.

When you hear soldiers on leave talking about armored cars and bubble dancers, don't think they are talking about mechanized equipment and Sally Rand. . . . They're talking army talk, which, as Pat O'Brien points out, when translated goes like this:

An armored car is a can of milk. . . . Army strawberries are pruned. . . . A bubble dancer is a dish-washer. . . . Blind flying is a blind date. . . . Barracks 13 is the guardhouse. . . . A Jeeter is a lieutenant. . . . A hell cat is a member of the bugle and drum corps. . . .
When Uncle Sam gives a party, that's pay day. . . . As for the suggar report, that's when you get a letter from your girl. . . .
A former chief of staff of the NY Police Dept. is air warden for the Empire State bldg., the tallest building in the world. . . . He is John J. Hennessy, and under his care are 15,000 workers.

A brand-new tire of first grade should give at least 15,000 miles of satisfactory service, and with meticulous care could be stretched to 25,000 miles.

Two things shorten the life of a battery—a loose rack and lack of water. With proper care a new battery should last several years.

Ten Teams Included in "Y" Volleyball Tourney Pairings

Nine Clubs Certain, Tenth Expected, For Opening Encounters

Ten teams, nine of them certain and the other expected to be details for official entrance day, have been paired for tomorrow night's opening round of the first city-wide Y. M. C. A. volleyball tournament, an affair already certain to become an annual event, with interest flowing over the enthusiastic galaxy of participants awaiting the first night of competition.

All this developed after an announcement by Ed Hasler, local physical instructor, of plans for such an event to include volleyball aggregations. Response was such that the field is set wide open, allowing all interested netters to enter and all sportspersons to witness something different in entertainment, yet something that has all the earmarks of really exciting new heights.

Setting up the schedule over the weekend, Hasler has the following matches lined up for tomorrow evening, times for the games and starting time for the tourney to be announced tomorrow: First round, St. Paul's vs. First Baptists, Y-Seniors vs. Marquette, First Lutherans vs. Nameless, and Senior Hi-Y vs. New Pros.

The only uncertain entry today is the First Lutheran church team, expected to give definite notice before the day is over. However, should they choose to withdraw, Hasler has planned to replace a schedule as it appears now, with the exception of a first round game to be awarded the Nameless.

Local fans who also are beginning to show exceptional interest in the tournament from an entertainment standpoint, are welcome to witness each elimination game. There is no large this year to watch the event, and it is anticipated that a large crowd will be on hand to witness the evening as the curtain goes up.

Derby Hope

Above is pictured Calumet Farm's 68th running of the Kentucky Derby. His name, well now it's Sun Again, though first he was known as Two-Timer, later as Bungo, having three names in as many years.

Softballers Ready To Resume Action

If the weather man co-operates, Tel Eppey's Gra-Y softball league will continue this afternoon with Jefferson and McClintock crossing bats on Beatty field.

Last week two games were canceled to start the program on its way, but after the opener was played, cold weather and frequent rains caused postponement of the second contest.

Other games on deck for this week find East and Lacy battling Wednesday night, and South meeting Jefferson Thursday evening, both encounters to be played on Beatty field.

MAJORS ALL SET TO MAKE 1942 DEBUTS

By Austin Bealmeier
New York, April 13.—(P)—If all the hopes, desires and predictions are fulfilled this year for managers of major league baseball teams, the first divisions of both the circuits are going to be a little crowded.

Not a single manager could be found today who was willing to admit that his club wasn't tagged for an upper berth at the end of the five-and-a-half months' jaunt.

All 16 teams are scheduled to break from the barrier together tomorrow in the first wartime season in 24 years.

The lineup sends New York to Washington, Philadelphia to Boston, St. Louis to Chicago and Cleveland to Detroit in the American League, while the National loop will find Brooklyn at New York, Boston at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati and Chicago at St. Louis.

The club leaders agree that baseball is in for a big year in spite of the war.

Most of them believe that the conflict will have some effect on the play of the teams, varying as the season progresses and the draft makes further inroads on the personnel, but none expects business at the gates to decline.

Few dared to pick a winner in the National League, but American League managers, with the exception of Joe McCarthy, think the New York Yankees are the boys to beat.

Local Outfit Wins Loop Go From Olean

Three matches were fired on the local Arcade bowling drives over the weekend, with Warren's Marconi Club kogles winning three points from Olean Niagara Hudson and the local Iroquois Beers splitting with the same team, both matches in Interstate League competition.

The Marconis lashed out with a 1018 opening game, taking a 150 pin advantage, and continuing with a thirty point margin to snare honors in the second effort. In the third trial the visitors managed to claim the point, but the Marconis had a 92 pin edge at the end.

In a practice game at the Moose Club yesterday, Harold Yaegle, one of the club's newer bowlers, gathered quite an audience as he rolled up a string of 10 successive strikes. He finally failed to clean the lane in the 11th session but wound up with a brisk 286 game, nevertheless.

The Iroquois Beers jumped off with the first two points in their match with Olean, then hit only 748 in the last game while the visitors piled up an 862 total to slice the lead and take third game point along with the point for total.

Another match, between a pair of pickup teams, saw the Arcade Five win three points from Adams Market.

Honor roll scores: B. Check 237, Draheim 220, F. Baldensperger 243, D. Check 233, F. Lincoln, 222.

Team scores:
Olean N-H .862 834 940 2636
Marconi .1018 883 927 2828
Olean N-H .892 803 862 2567
Iroquois Beer .924 869 748 2541
Adams Mkt. .724 739 774 2237
Arcade Five .687 762 799 2245

High Scores Hit In ABC

Columbus, O., April 13.—(P)—The standings board at the American Bowling Congress Tournament sparkled today.

Sharpshooting newcomers topped the doubles, singles and all-events columns—and by way of a shining sidelight Henry Wollenberg of Davenport, Ia., posted a 297 game, within three pins of a perfect 300, in team bowling with the City Hall Smokehouse quintet. After 11 strikes, the Iowan got 3-2-8 split. It was the highest individual game in the tourney to date.

Nelson Burton, captain of the St. Louis Budweiser team that took second place with 3111 Saturday, blasted out a 746 for first position in the singles. He rolled games of 235, 246 and 265.

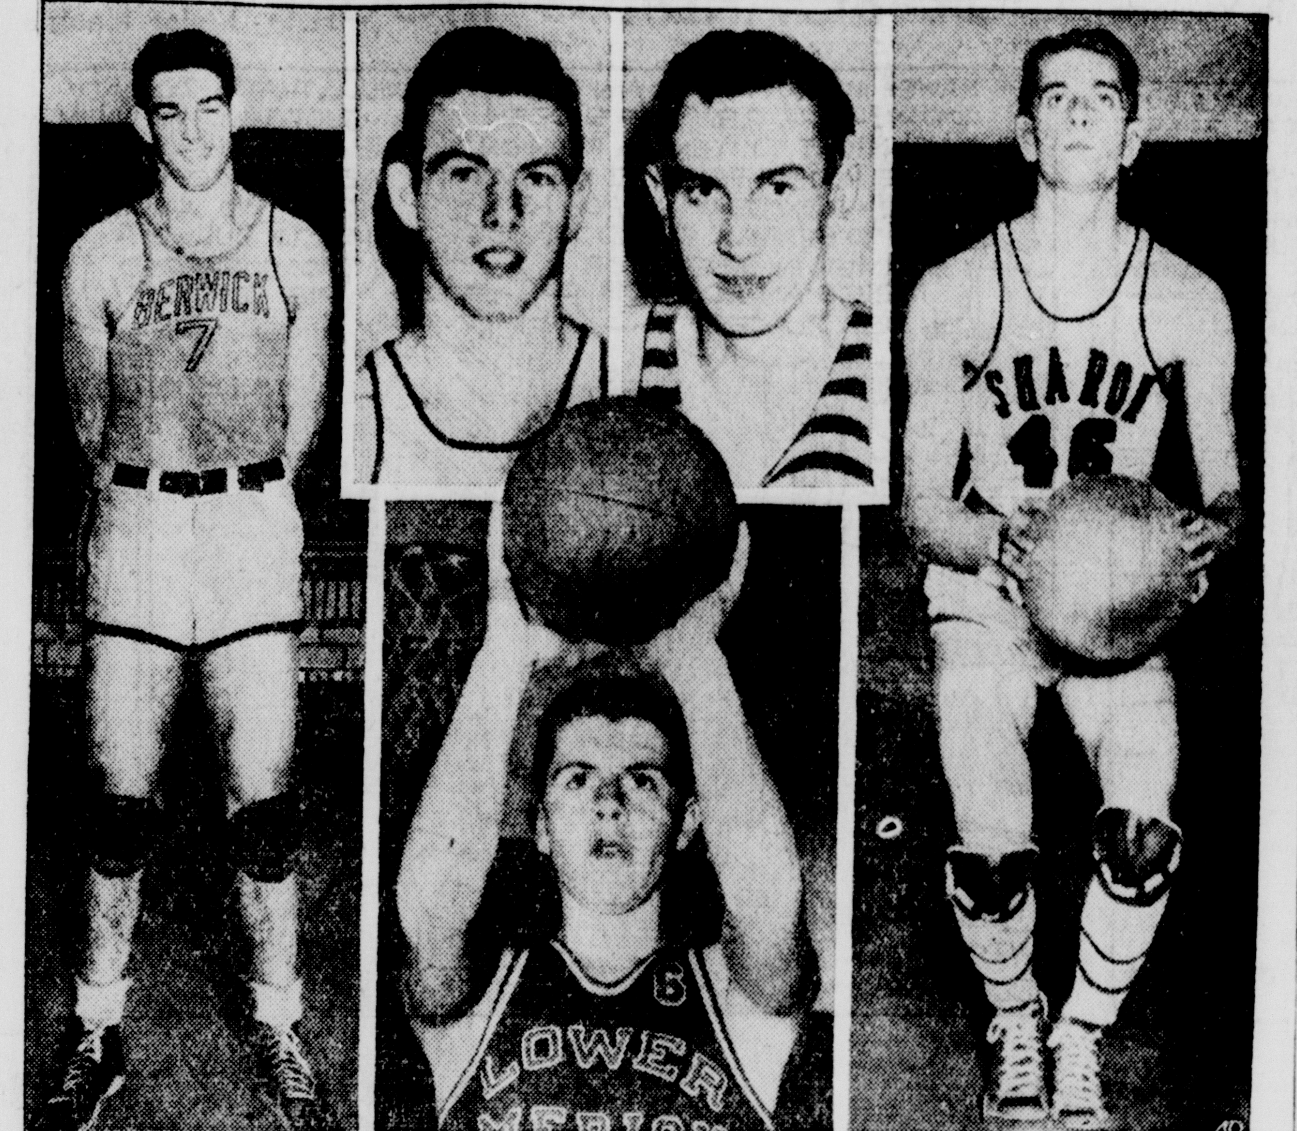

The all-events lead went to Stanley Moskal of Saginaw, Mich., with 1973 on counts of 599 in the five-man 711 in the doubles and 663 in the singles.

A brace of Milwaukeeans, Ed Nowicki and George Baier, amassed 1377 to pace the doubles. They displaced Angelo Zanolini and John Sebeck of Clifton, N. J., who hit 1365 three hours earlier.

CAMDEN GETS TOTE
Camden, April 13.—American totalizer, fraud-proof wagering robot, will be installed at Garden State Park, which opens during July near Camden.

Sixteen states own and operate liquor monopolies. They have annual sales of more than $264,000,000; they make more than $58,000,000 profit and the average family expenditure for liquor in those states is $26.22

1942 AP All-Penn'a Scholastic Basketball Team

Western schools gained three of the five places on the 1942 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania Scholastic basketball team, picked by coaches and sports writers from every section of the state. Topping the voting were Ed Moffatt (top, left) of Bradford, a guard, and Bells Colone (left) of Berwick, center. Pete Molnar (right) of Sharon and Bob Holste (top, right) of Arnold gained the forward positions, while Captain Harry Middleton (center) of Lower Merion's PIAA championship quintet was named to the other guard position.

SPORT SPATTERINGS

HOW WE STACK 'EM FOR 1942

Well, here we go again . . . A sports writer can only stay away from the forecasting end of his profession so long, then the urge is upon him again and he surrenders all better thoughts and plans to once again walk out on a well-cracked limb, so that he can fall off and acquire new bruises . . . Having already published and studied Dillon Graham's and Harry Grayson's respective major league choices, the former in behalf of the Associated Press and the latter of NEA authority, this hardly is a novel idea, but so much for the beginning . . . As we look into the sportscope, this is the way things shape up . . .

American	National
New York	St. Louis
Boston	Brooklyn
Chicago	Pittsburgh
Cleveland	Cincinnati
St. Louis	New York
Detroit	Chicago
Washington	Boston
Philadelphia	Philadelphia

The Yanks still stand half a head taller in baseball ratings than any other major league team of the present . . . Only 1 1/2 of the nation's sports writers have been bold enough to oust them from the top perch . . . St. Louis can't be plagued with the injury jinx again this year, so they should climb the National League's golden stairs . . . The Red Sox and Chicks are pretty even in the A. L., but one has to go before the other, thus we give Cronin's boys the nod, and leave Dykes with third place and his cigar . . . Brooklyn looks good for second in the senior loop, while Fisch's Buccaneers have done a superb job this spring, look like third placers . . . We're giving fourth place posts to Ohio, as Pennsylvania gets the cellar . . . Our sixth, seventh and eighth placers in both loops are toss ups, and probably will toss us around plenty before the campaign is over . . . But until next fall, when we correct the papers, we have no regrets . . . So let's take an example set by these major leaguers, and apply it to our own Victory League in this World War II . . . Let's all start pitching this year . . . Let's make hay before the sun shines.

Eddie Moffatt Wins Berth on All-State Schoolboy Cage Team

By JERRY WEINSTEIN
Philadelphia, April 13.—(P)—Members of teams which led their districts in the PIAA championship tournament monopolize the 1942 All-Pennsylvania scholastic basketball team selected for the Associated Press by coaches and sports editors from every section of the commonwealth.

More than 150 participated in the poll and their choices, in nearly every case, favored players who spark-plugged their quinters through the grueling PIAA tournament.

Lower Merion's state championship five placed its captain, Harry Middleton, in one of the guard positions while Sharon, the runner-up, claimed Pete Molnar, stellar high-scoring forward.

Bob Holste, of Arnold, WPAL representative in the PIAA tourney, was awarded the other forward post as Molnar's running-mate. Bells Colone, who paced Berwick's entry in the eastern regional finals, was named to the center position while the remaining guard post went to Ed Moffatt, Bradford's ace.

Colone and Moffatt were the most popular choices, each winning 110 votes. Molnar was close behind with 105 while Middleton listed 65 and Holste 55.

Close behind were another pair of brilliant forwards, Greer Heindel of Lower Merion and Steve Mastini of Mahanoy City. They each polled 50 ballots and were placed on the second team along with Moran, Sharon center, and Guido of Arnold and Gatski of Hazle Township guards.

Other district stars who found places among the listings included: Hakekovich, Erie East, fourth team; Ward, Oil City, and Stupka, Sharon fifth team; Jim Barry and Fred Flung, Berks honorable mention, also Stanley, DuBois, and Lockkar, Sharon.

Secret Orders BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

YESTERDAY: Stephanie Merrill met Capt. Kurt Knudsen because she tried to miss a dog in the road, and smashed her car. At first she disliked him, and then she almost fell in love with him. But her cousin, Vicky, has cut in on that and appears to have plans for further cutting. So Stephanie seems to be relegated to the attention of Henri de la Pagerie, whom she likes well enough, but does not quite trust.

Chapter Four

Golf Game As Bait

STEPHANIE was just turning out her light when she heard Vicky's silvery laugh followed by the slamming of a car door. A moment later she came up the stairs.

"Sweetie dear," she called softly, tapping at the door. "Are you awake?"

For a moment, Stephanie was tempted not to answer. Listening to all the details of Kurt's capitulation wasn't going to be any pleasure. Then, with a grimace, she answered.

"Come in. Have a good time?"

"Oh, simply divine," Vicky perched on the edge of the bed. "Didn't you?" and then without waiting to hear, "Isn't he simply adorable!"

Stephanie's smile twisted.

"Adorable" was hardly the word to describe Kurt's good-looking and such a divine dancer and you know," Vicky pursed her lips thoughtfully. "I don't think I've ever met a man who is really intelligent as he is."

Something inside Stephanie began to ache suddenly.

"And do you know, angel, I do think he's interested in me," Vicky's eyes misted dreamily. "I think I'll be married in palest pink satin."

"Well, aren't you rather counting your bridesmaids before they're hatched?" Stephanie laughed, but her own persistent hopes silently folded their tents and slunk away.

Vicky wrinkled her nose, fanned off the bed. "You'll see!" Then, brushing a kiss against her cousin's cheek, she said, "Get some sleep, angel. We're playing golf with Henri at six in the morning."

"Six! We are?" Stephanie gasped. "Since when have you taken to rising before dawn?"

"Since—tomorrow," Vicky smiled knowingly.

And not until the next morning as they walked through dew-wet grass approaching the Mayfair's tricky third hole did Stephanie begin to understand Vicky's little scheme. At best, Vicky's game was erratic but this morning it was simply wild. She'd already lost two balls and since she'd insisted they play without caddies, she spent most of the time searching "out in the rough." Finally, Stephanie saw why. Beyond a water hazard and a sand trap and just putting onto the fifth green, was Kurt Knudsen.

"Surprise?"

"Why—there's Kurt Knudsen," Vicky echoed her thought aloud with so much surprise in her voice that any innocent bystander would have been completely fooled. "And he's playing alone, too. Maybe he'd like to join us?"

Vicky called, waved and Kurt, missing his putt, looked up scowling. But, instantly, a smile appeared. He picked up his ball, walked toward them.

The best-laid plans of a wily woman, Stephanie thought savagely as she sliced her own ball disastrously, went off like clock-work. And, for all his intelligence, Kurt Knudsen was certainly falling for some pretty old tricks.

Stephanie drove again. This time her ball soared beautifully straight toward the green, rolled obligingly into good putting range. "Beautiful shot!" Kurt's deep voice just behind her.

Stephanie flushed. "Thanks. It was—just luck."

"Indeed it wasn't," Vicky defended her with auspicious ardor. "Stevie's a marvelous golfer. She does all the sports so well. I envy you, angel. Truly I do. You have so much strength."

Henri bowed. "But of course." And then to Stephanie, Kurt said, acting as if she were Vicky's mother instead of her cousin. "And you'll see that Vicky's foot is properly attended to?"

For an instant, Stephanie met his eyes, tried in vain to see something there to revive her own secret hopes. "Certainly," she said finally. And then watched Kurt pick Vicky up again and with incredible gentleness, transfer her to the seat of Henri's car.

As he swung into his car, drove off, Stephanie remembered the word she'd been hunting for almost from the moment she'd first looked up at him. Vicky. He looked, she decided, like a hero straight out of Beowulf or off an ancient Norse battlefield.

And so what! she demanded of herself furiously. There was certainly nothing particularly virile about the way he'd let Vicky wrap him around her little finger. And doing a lot of wishful thinking about him wasn't going to improve the situation any. She might better concentrate on charming Henri just—she added wryly—to convince her own wounded ego that she was still not exactly a wallflower.

Call To Duty
FATU, Henri! Stephanie thought and despised herself for being mean about it all. But when even worldly sophisticates like Henri made pack-horses of themselves to please Vicky, things were certainly pretty hopeless.

"Oh, I'm not a brave Henri," Vicky's blue eyes widened. "I'm just an awful baby, I'm afraid."

Stephanie glanced at Kurt. Surely Vicky was over-playing her hand this time. Surely any reasonably intelligent male could see through that. But Kurt's blue eyes didn't betray even the ghost of a smile.

She was grateful then, that a boy from the club ran toward them shouting Kurt's name.

It was an order from Kurt's superior officer. He was to report, in uniform, at once.

"I'm sorry," Kurt apologized. "I'll have to leave immediately." He turned to Henri. "You'll see that the girls get home safely, won't you, sir?"

Henri bowed. "But of course." And then to Stephanie, Kurt said, acting as if she were Vicky's mother instead of her cousin. "And you'll see that Vicky's foot is properly attended to?"

For an instant, Stephanie met his eyes, tried in vain to see something there to revive her own secret hopes. "Certainly," she said finally. And then watched Kurt pick Vicky up again and with incredible gentleness, transfer her to the seat of Henri's car.

As he swung into his car, drove off, Stephanie remembered the word she'd been hunting for almost from the moment she'd first looked up at him. Vicky. He looked, she decided, like a hero straight out of Beowulf or off an ancient Norse battlefield.

And so what! she demanded of herself furiously. There was certainly nothing particularly virile about the way he'd let Vicky wrap him around her little finger. And doing a lot of wishful thinking about him wasn't going to improve the situation any. She might better concentrate on charming Henri just—she added wryly—to convince her own wounded ego that she was still not exactly a wallflower.

TWO FIRE CALLS

The emergency truck was called to the White block at 11 a. m. yesterday to investigate smoke coming from a window in a second apartment in the building. A fire department investigation was made and was the cause for the smoke. Damage was slight. This morning about nine o'clock the department was called to 101 Parker street where a chimney had set a partition in a home there ablaze. Damage was considerable before the fire could be extinguished.

TWO CAR ACCIDENT

The blinding snow storm that raged over the area Saturday evening was responsible for an automobile collision between cars driven by Severn Shannon, Detroit Mich., and Lawrence M. Owen, 11 Park avenue, this city, on the McKinney overhead just east of Youngville. According to the report made to the state motor police, Shannon was enroute when he skidded while rounding one of the curves on the overhead, causing his car to collide with the one driven by the Warren man. The left fenders of both machines were damaged. Shannon was arrested for failure to yield half of the right-of-way. No person was injured.

HIKING CLUB

The Allegheny Hiking Club enjoyed yesterday's brisk afternoon with thirteen persons, including two newcomers, participating in their hike. The group drove to the junction of the Daugherty Run Road and the highway, parking cars there and walking up to the top of the ridge southeast of Daugherty Run continuing over this ridge for about a mile and then going down into Daugherty Run and up over two hills on the north side of the Run circling around and coming down at point near the starting place. Some excellent views of the lower Conango Valley were obtained and very enjoyable six-mile hike was added to the hikers' record.

Clever Play Defeats Uneven Trump Split
By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Mrs. Edith Seligman of New York, with Mrs. Barbara Cook, won the Eastern States women's pair championship recently, for the second straight year. Mrs. Seligman does not compete often in the major tournaments. When she does, she always makes a fine score. An example of her brilliant play is given in today's hand.

West cashed two rounds of hearts, then led the ten of clubs. Dummy won with the ace. Now Mrs. Seligman had to guess how to attack trumps. She decided not to try for five-odd by double-finessing. Instead she led the deuce from dummy and won with the ace. When the jack fell, South led the second club to the king. The queen of clubs was cashed. South discarding a diamond. Then South ruffed a club.

South cashed the two top diamonds, then led the jack and ruffed with dummy's ten of spades. Now it did not matter what East did. He could win only his king of trumps.

At other tables South went down at four spades, either through losing two trump tricks or through staking the whole hand on an even split in clubs.

The latest blows there were reported to have damaged an enemy ship.

It appeared from a compilation of official and semi-official reports that about 30 Japanese planes were destroyed around or stricken from the skies almost without loss by the Allies.

Both the Republican-controlled senate and Democratic house balked at the proposal and instead adopted a policy of making specific amendments to existing laws.

IT IS UP TO YOU AFTER ALL

You are the individual player, with the laws of Nature as the rules of the game. These rules are fair and just, but Nature makes no allowance for mistakes or ignorance. If the rules are followed, the highest stakes are paid in overflowing generosity. If they are ignored, you are checkmated, and have to pay the consequences in ill-health and suffering.

If you seem to be "losing" from lack of knowledge or abuse of these "rules," talk to your Doctor about it. He has made an intensive study of Nature's laws as applied to the body, and understands their application to the individual. Give him the opportunity at regular intervals to see how you are progressing.

What is "one man's meat is another man's poison," and your individual rules must be made to harmonize with Nature's laws as applied to that combination of bone, sinew, muscle, hormones, emotions and all that goes into making you.

No one is better fitted by long experience, knowledge and understanding to help you learn and play your own individual game of health better than your Doctor.
